AMENDMENT TO THE REUSE PLAN FOR CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE

This document serves as an amendment to the original 1990 Reuse Plan (Chanute Air Force Base Reuse Plan, EDAW, Inc., August 1990), which was developed in response to the announced closure of Chanute Air Force Base in the 1988 Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) legislation. Over the past 22 years, much has changed and a significant amount of new planning has been undertaken in response to changes in the national and regional economic environment. In order to support the final transfer of Air Force property to the Village of Rantoul by way of an Economic Development Conveyance (EDC), an amended Reuse Plan is required.

This Amended Reuse Plan incorporates by reference the on-going plans and strategies that have evolved since the original, and summarizes the current direction that the Village is taking with the redevelopment of Chanute. Once approved by the Village Board of Trustees (serving as the approved implementation Local Redevelopment Authority), this plan will be incorporated into the EDC Application for approximately 406 acres of the remaining 588 acres¹.

History and Impact of BRAC Actions

Chanute was established as a military airfield in 1917, and served in that role until September 1993, when it was closed as a result of the first BRAC action in 1988. The airfield, consisting of three 6,000 foot runways, was deactivated in the early 1970s but the base continued to serve as a major Air Force training facility for another two decades, with a strong focus on aviation support activities including jet engine repair and testing, airport operations, missile facilities training and other non-flying functions. Base facilities included more than 1,300 housing units, dormitories for more than 6,000 personnel, a hospital, golf course, dining halls and more than 4 million square feet of buildings on a total of approximately 2,174 acres.

The closure of Chanute had an enormous negative impact on the community of Rantoul, resulting in lost population and employment. The initial redevelopment plan for the base, which called for establishment of a major commercial airline maintenance hub, was not realized and a portion of the base property was subsequently sold off by the Air Force through public sale or transferred to various entities as the environmental clean-up process went forward. Partly as a result of the disposal process being driven by the environmental clean-up, the base property has been subdivided into many different parcels with a confusing array of parcel names and descriptions.

¹ Acreages used in the EDC Application and this Amendment to the Reuse Plan were derived from the Village of Rantoul GIS analysis and should be considered approximate until a formal survey is completed.

Reuse Planning Efforts - 1993 to 2012

In the aftermath of the initial Chanute Air Force Base Reuse Plan (August 1990), several other studies were undertaken to plan for the base's future. These included a Financial and Management Plan for Chanute Air Force Base in January 1991 and a Financial Feasibility Analysis and Acquisition Strategy in July 1992, which recommended that the airport be conveyed by way of a FAA-sponsored Public Benefit Conveyance (PBC). This process led to the designation of approximately 800 acres for the airport and included both the airfield and surrounding open spaces, the hangars and other aviation support facilities, as well as several other buildings which were envisioned to serve as revenue generators to support on-going operations of the airport as a public use facility. The remaining property was then available for transfer using the other BRAC conveyance mechanisms. Other PBC's were initially envisioned for land in the southeast corner of the base. Some of this property had been used for landfills and it was envisioned that these could be conveyed via the Department of the Interior (DOI) for future use as wildlife areas. Another portion of the property in this area, including several buildings, was leased by the University of Illinois for the development of a highway systems research program that tested pavement designs, which could potentially be conveyed by way of a PBC through the Department of Education (DOE). Other parcels throughout the base were requested by the Village of Rantoul for use as public recreation facilities, also through the PBC mechanism. The remaining property was then put out to bid by the Air Force under the Public Sale conveyance mechanism. Between November 1994 and March 2005, the Air Force transferred 18 parcels totaling nearly 630 acres, by way of public bid sales. These sales, which brought in a total of almost $11.6 million to the Air Force, included nearly all properties that had a positive market value at the time and that were environmentally clean. Of these, one parcel (N1) remains to be transferred pending environmental mitigation by the Air Force.

When the base officially closed in September 1993, the Village of Rantoul entered into a no-cost lease with the Air Force for approximately 601 acres of Chanute, comprising most of the airport and surrounding properties. The purpose of the lease was to give control of the property to the Village in anticipation of the planned Public Benefit Conveyance for the Airport. The lease included most of the remaining buildings, with the Village responsible for maintenance and protection. The Air Force initially maintained control of the utilities, but eventually turned over the operations to the Village as well. The lease included the real and certain personal property on an "as is, where is" basis. The Village incorporated the day-to-day maintenance of the base into its public works functions, maintaining and repairing streets and roads, operating the utilities and providing public safety services throughout the facility, including the properties that had been sold to private owners as well as the remaining land and buildings. The Village subsequently spent millions of dollars on maintenance of the utility systems over the years.

In 1996, the Village developed a Tax Increment Financing strategy for the base, in order to help fund necessary capital improvements (Economic Development Plan, Chanute Air Force Base, PGVA, February 1996). The plan identified some $29 million in project costs including infrastructure, property assembly, building rehabilitation, job training and administration. It also forecast a three-fold increase in assessed value and creation of 2,000 to 3,000 new jobs (in addition to the estimated 1,000 jobs on the base at the time) over a twenty year period.

Throughout the post-closure period, the Village actively promoted the base and engaged in economic development activities, seeking and acquiring industrial and commercial tenants for several of the buildings and land parcels. It also continued to operate the airport, and improved several parcels for public recreational uses. This effort on the part of the Village eventually led to the creation of over 1,700 jobs and the occupancy of over 1.3 million square feet of space (Department of Defense, Office of Economic Adjustment, website article: Base Reuse Success Stories, 2009).

In 2007, a revised redevelopment plan was developed for the base on behalf of the Village (The Chanute Campus Strategic Redevelopment Plan, June 2007, ERA & Woolpert, Inc.). This plan analyzed then-current existing physical, economic and market conditions in the region and recommended a land use plan that incorporated an aviation campus, mixed-use and a corporate business park, recognizing the long-term nature of the development.

In August 2007, the Airport PBC transfer was officially recorded in three separate phases, totaling more than 664 acres. The first phase property totaled 500 acres and Phase II included two parcels with 111 acres while Phase III included seven more parcels with a total of nearly 53 acres. The preliminary airport property included two of the four major hangars and adjacent buildings, including Hangar 4 and Grissom Hall, the location of the Chanute Air Museum, as well as Hangar 1, which is currently leased to a manufacturing and distribution firm. Other major buildings included in the initial Airport PBC are Building 96, a large office/shop training facility, and Building 20, a relatively new office building currently leased by AT&T and located adjacent to the flight line of the airport.

The Rantoul National Aviation Center – Frank Elliott Field (Identifier: KTIP) is currently operated by the Village of Rantoul as a public-use facility. A new building with offices and hangar for the FBO (Precision Aviation) was built in 2000. The airport reportedly had 12 based aircraft and supported approximately 55 operations per day in 2008 (50% local, 50% transient), according to AirNav.com. The airport has experienced significantly reduced activity levels since then. A preliminary Airport Master Plan Update was completed in February 2012 by the Village, which identified 15 based aircraft and only 9 operations per day (Airport Master Plan Update – Phase I Submittal; Burns & McDonnell, Feb. 2012). This report also identifies several parcels that the Village is requesting to be removed from the Airport boundaries so as to reduce the size and operational costs of the airport.

In September 2009, the Village of Rantoul entered into a grant agreement with the Department of Defense, Office of Economic Adjustment (OEA) which funded the development of a Business and Operations Plan for the remaining properties at Chanute, which would ultimately lead to an Economic Development Conveyance (EDC). The Village contracted with RKG Associates, Inc. of Dover, NH to undertake the EDC Application process. RKG, along with subconsultants Weston Solutions, Inc. and Jeffrey Donohoe Associates, began researching and assembling the information needed for the Business and Operations Plan that would serve as the supporting basis for an EDC (Analysis of the Impacts of Acquiring the Remaining Land at Chanute Air Force Base, Village of Rantoul, IL, RKG Associates, Inc.; July 2010). During that process, the RKG team completed an existing conditions analysis that looked at market conditions for the remaining properties as well as the physical and environmental conditions of the remaining buildings, land and utility systems. The findings of that report, issued in July 2010, indicated that there was little if any market-driven demand for the land or facilities at Chanute, and that there were such significant data gaps in analysis of the utility systems, that determination of their condition, the estimated cost-to-cure and the financial risk associated with ownership, was not possible. As a result, OEA provided additional funding to the Village to conduct a more detailed assessment of the utility infrastructure, which was completed in early 2012 (Phase I & Phase II Infrastructure Analysis and Assessment of the Former Chanute Air Force Base, Burns & McDonnell, Inc.; March 22, 2012).

In late 2010, the Center for Community Adaptation, a Champaign-based organization formed to unite education and research in sustainability with community engagement and adaptation, and to facilitate the implementation of sustainable goals and strategies across the state of Illinois, undertook a comprehensive study of Rantoul and its potential for economic and social change, given the history and experiences of the Village since the closure of the base. The Center (www.centerforcommunityadaptation.org) is organized as a public/private initiative with a stated aim to improve the quality of life for Illinois residents, to develop Illinois citizen scientists through interaction with sustainability goals, and to help promote (green) business development through fundamental market transformation.

The results of the study, which included extensive research, public meetings and input from a committee of community leaders, were published in April 2011 as Rantoul Initiative – Progress Report. This report summarizes the findings and conclusions of this exhaustive planning process, and lays out a series of thematic redevelopment alternatives, each of which have elements that are in-place at the base today or which have high potential for future economic development activity. These themes including the following:

- Agriculture;
- Alternative Energy;
- Recreation and Tourism;
- Transportation;
- Education and Training; and
- Research.

The report includes suggestions and recommendations for moving forward through the combined efforts of the Village of Rantoul, the University of Illinois, the regional business community, as well as state and federal government agencies. Follow-on efforts that should be continued or begun are broken down into five broad categories:

- Community Commitment and Involvement
- Regional Collaboration and Partnerships
- Infrastructure Assessment (completed 2012)
- Planning (on-going)

- Funding Development

As a result of this effort, this report maps out a realistic and achievable redevelopment strategy for the Village and the continual development of the former Chanute Air Force Base.

Current Status

In 2011, the Air Force transferred by negotiated sale a 20 acre parcel to Lincoln's Challenge, an organization sponsored by the Illinois National Guard that operates a youth training center utilizing some of the former dormitories and other space at Chanute. Lincoln's Challenge is one of the largest employers on the former base with approximately 145 positions.

Approximately 588 of the original 2,174 acres at Chanute are still awaiting transfer. The Air Force has recommended that this property, along with the base utility systems, be conveyed to the Village using a combination of PBC, EDC, donation and negotiated sale methods. Much of the property is contaminated and is in the process of being cleaned up, which will take several years in some cases. Land use restrictions and/or institutional controls will be established prior to transfer.

The property being requested by the Village through the EDC includes a total of 26 separate parcels scattered throughout the former base property containing approximately 406 acres. These include a cluster of four parcels located in the southeast quadrant of the base totaling approximately 248 acres, another cluster on the western side totaling 96 acres, and a third cluster on the northern side of the base totaling approximately 34 acres. In addition, the EDC includes several small road segments adjacent to these clusters totaling approximately 25 acres, along with the base utilities (water, wastewater, storm water and electric, including easements and rights-of-way). Nearly all of the parcels were originally part of a planned airport Public Benefit Conveyance ("PBC") sponsored by the Federal Aviation Administration ("FAA") as they became available pending environmental clean-up, based on the original 1990 reuse plan for Chanute. However, the subsequent reduction in the role and requirements for the airfield at the base resulted in the decision to include them in this EDC. The Village has submitted a release request to FAA for a portion of the original PBC and approval is expected. Refer to Figure 1 and Table 1 in the EDC Application for more details on the various land parcels included in the EDC and PBC conveyances.

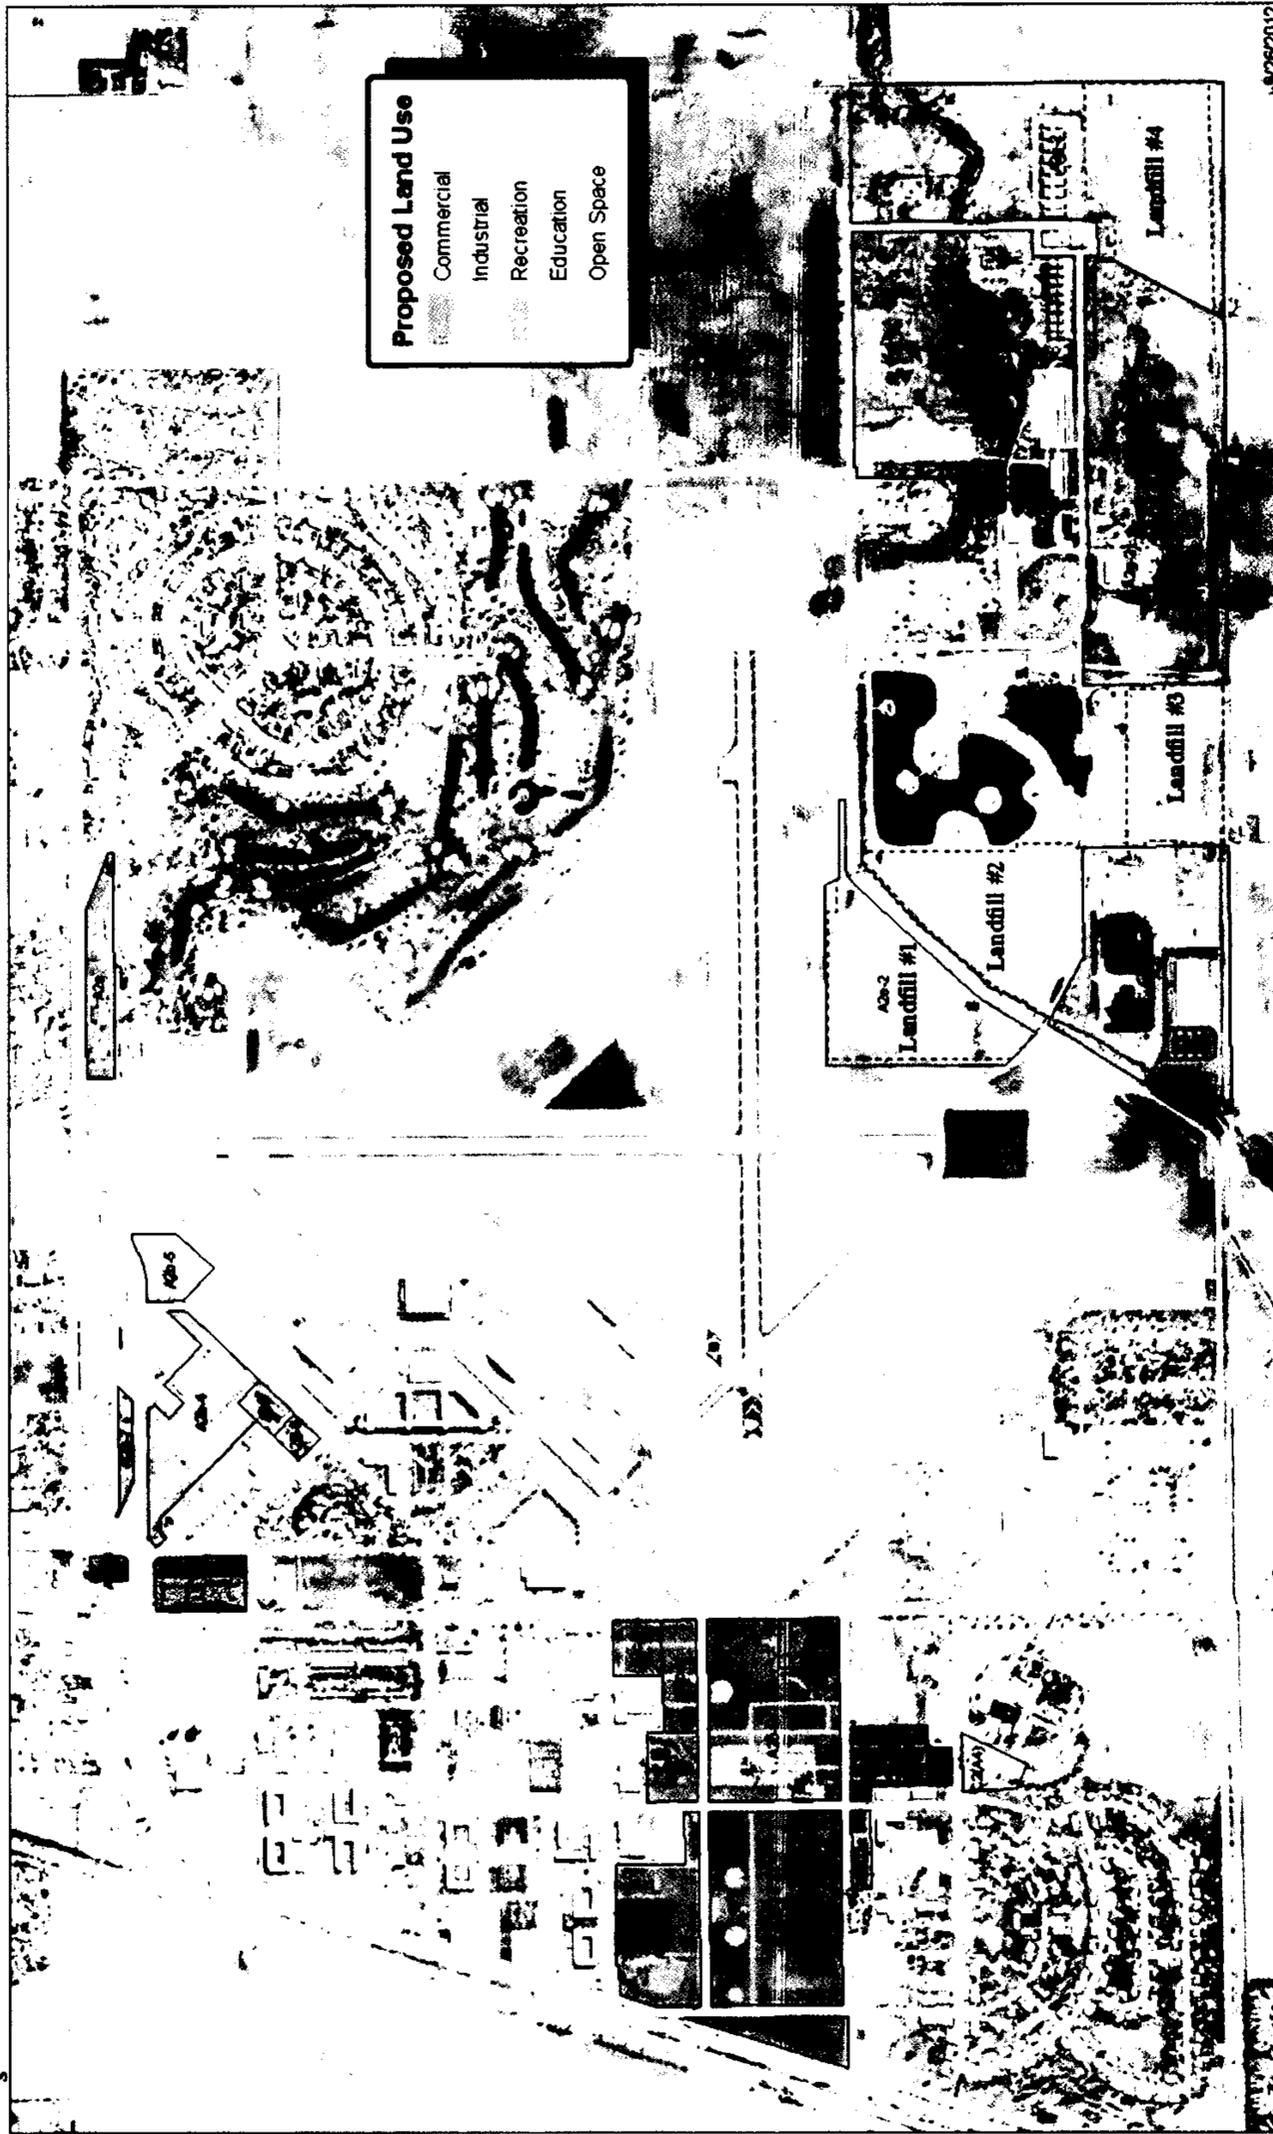

Land Use Plan

Figure 1 indicates the location of the remaining property to be transferred at Chanute and depicts the types of development that will be supported on each. This map, in concert with the 2011 Rantoul Initiate report described above, serves as the Land Use Plan for this Amended Reuse Plan.

EDC Application Proposed Land Use

Conclusion

The Village of Rantoul, serving as the Local Redevelopment Authority, is expected to continue to support and encourage economic development and job creation on the former Chanute Air Force Base by:

- Providing quality municipal support services, including utilities, to all property at the former base;
- Utilizing the property under its ownership and control to directly or indirectly support economic development and the welfare of the entire Village;
- Operating the airport as a general aviation facility; and
- Working with the Air Force and State of Illinois to mitigate the remaining environmental challenges.

Based on the planning and redevelopment efforts that have occurred over the past several years, and as expressed in the April 2011 strategic planning document Rantoul Initiative prepared by the Center for Community Adaptation, this document in conjunction with the other documents cited above, constitute the recognized Amended Reuse Plan required for the Economic Development Conveyance application for the remaining property at Chanute.

REVENUE & EXPENSE OUTLOOK

Revenue/Expense Outlook
As of August 31, 2012- Four Months

General Fund

Revenue

Total General Fund revenue continues to meet and even exceed original targets. Through the first four months, the receipts of total revenues are $82,582 (2.9%) above the total revenues of the first four months of last fiscal year. What's more, the total revenue year-end outlook is $120,000 (1.5%) above budget and 3% above the FY 11-12 year-end actual. (See General Fund -Total Revenue exhibit.)

Expenses

The following comments highlight the major expense items currently over budget-

Personnel Services/Employee Benefits

The month of August had three pay periods. As a result, most departments/divisions are temporarily over their budget targets in the General Fund, and other operating funds- especially in the Personnel Services category.

Purchased Professional Services

In the Comptroller's Office, audit expenses have been paid. In the Govt. Activities division, legal expenses related to the Bell project have that account over budget, but only on a ytd basis. In Recreation, audit expenses are temporarily over. In CP&Z's Code Enforcement division, the care of derelict properties has the Other category temporarily over, as well; but the Police Admin division's legal expenses are $5,000 over the annual target and in this case a budget adjustment will be needed. In the Police Communications division, expenses related to a security system have the category over budget, for now. In Police Investigation, expenses related to a gps tracking and security system are temporarily over, also.

Purchased Property Services

In Pool, equipment maintenance and grounds maintenance, as well as utilities expenses, are also over budget on a ytd basis- as is the case in Campground. In Parks Maintenance, equipment maintenance and grounds maintenance have the category running a bit over. And in CP&Z Code Enforcement, acquisition/demolition expenses are temporarily over. No concerns.

Other Purchased Services

In the Recreation Youth Center division, the summer food program expenses have ended a bit over budget. No concerns.

Supplies

In Comptroller's Office, postage and office supplies are temporarily over the ytd targets. And various seasonal supplies have the Pool, Forum, Youth Center, and Parks Maint. divisions over, for now. In CPZ's Rental Inspection division, postage and office supplies are temporarily over, too. In Police Investigation, postage and general supplies are over and in Fire Suppression clothing/uniform purchases and miscellaneous supplies are currently over the budget target.

Capital

No concerns.

Other

Irregular contributions of seasonal concession purchases for the Pool division have this category over, ytd. No concerns.

Conclusion

The General Fund is usually well within its expense targets at year end; therefore, the final revenue/expense balance is typically determined by how the final revenues stack up against their targets and, as mentioned, the expected outcome for revenues continues to be very encouraging.

Special Revenue Funds

911 Surcharge Fund

In recent years this fund has been characterized by declining surcharge revenue- FY 03-04 $116,653, FY 04-05 $109,868, FY 05-06 $98,898, FY 06-07 $82,331, FY 07-08 $71,285, FY 08-09 $62,215, FY 09-10 $50,038, FY 10-11 $50,982, and FY 11-12 $36,625. The current outlook anticipates the budget amount of $40,000 to be exceeded a bit.

Motor Fuel Tax Fund

A special disbursement of $56,099 will be distributed by the State to this fund later in the fiscal year but, as of now, a total of $104,232 in motor fuel tax receipts has been booked through the first four months- compared to last year's $161,531. Last fiscal year ended with $377,031 so the current outlook is expected to approximate that same amount.

TIF Fund

Last fiscal year's property tax receipts were $1,423,804, due to the collection of back taxes. The FY 12-13 budget target for property tax revenue is $1,300,000. The outlook has been kept at the target amount. Capital expenses are temporarily over, as work at Building #555 continues.

(Misc. Special Revenue funds)

Revenue

The rest of the Special Revenue funds' revenue is from transfers-in, grants, or interest income.

Expenses

Community Development's Admin division is temporarily over as a result of the audit expense. In CD Rehab, construction expenses at 1508 Gleason have the account temporarily over it ytd target.

Capital Projects Funds/Debt Service

Revenue

The revenue from these funds is inter-fund transfers and interest income.

Expenses

In the Corporate Restricted Reserve fund, demolition expenses have the Purchased Property Services category temporarily over. No concerns.

Proprietary Funds

Landfill Fund

The only revenue is from interest income, since there is no transfer from the General Fund, as had been the case in past years. On the expense side, $127 in taxes paid to the county has been charged within the Other category, with no budget monies. This fund has a targeted deficit of $35,400 this year.

Gas Fund

Revenue

The current outlook for all of the selected revenue sources is below budget.

Expenses

All expense categories are below their year-to-date budgets, except salaries (extra pay period in August.)

Conclusion

Current data suggest that this fund could show a revenue/expense surplus at year-end, as planned.

Water Fund

Revenue

Industrial Sales and Village Sales are on track, but all other selected revenue sources are slightly below their budget targets.

Expenses

In the Treatment division, maintenance supplies are temporarily over.

Conclusion

This fund is budgeted to have a revenue and expenses surplus this fiscal year.

Waste Water Fund

Revenue

Trends of all selected revenue sources are at or above the budget targets, with the exception of Commercial Sales and Government Institution Sales.

Expenses

In the Purchased Professional Services category of the Wastewater Plant division, the budgeted fees for the Illinois Environmental Protection agency have been paid. System supplies and Capital expenses are temporarily over. No concerns.

Conclusion

This fund is budgeted to have a large revenue and expenses deficit this fiscal year.

Electric Fund

Revenue

Currently, most of the major selected revenue sources are trending at or above their budget targets, with the exception of Residential Sales and Turn-off Charges.

Expenses

Personnel Services and Employee Benefits in the Technical Services division are trending over budget due to retirement payouts and the extra pay period. Also in Tech Services, environmental testing has the Purchased Professional Services category over- ytd. Street light maintenance supplies have the category well over the ytd target in the Distribution division, also. And YTD Capital is a bit over- no concerns.

Conclusion

The fund is budgeted to have a revenue/expense surplus this fiscal year.

Storm Water Drainage Fund

Revenue

Revenue is from property taxes and transfers.

Expenses

The Gleason Street drainage project has the Capital category temporarily over on a ytd basis. No concerns.

Airport Fund

Expenses

In Operations & Maintenance division, repair/maintenance of grounds and of air field are both temporarily over and budgeted capital has been spent on the two mowers. In the Property Maint. division, encumbrances from the previous fiscal year have been spent on Building #555. No concerns.

Conclusion

The fund had a surplus last fiscal year and is budgeted to have a revenue/expense surplus again in FY 12-13.

Internal Services Funds

Revenue

Revenue is primarily from inter-fund transfers.

Expenses

Within the Admin division, engineering expense has the Purchased Professional Services category temporarily over. And, in the Other category, small miscellaneous expenses are temporarily over.

Within the Customer Service division, office supplies are temporarily over, ytd.

Within the Pump Station Maintenance and in the Street Maintenance divisions, various repair and maintenance accounts are temporarily over.

Conclusion

The FY 12-13 budget calls for expenses to exceed revenue by $150,000 in order to reduce the fund balance.

IMS Fund

Revenue

Revenue is from budgeted transfers from the operating funds.

Expenses

The HTE consulting fees have taken the Purchased Professional Services category currently over the ytd budget target, as is the case with system maintenance items in the Supplies category.

Conclusion

The FY 12-13 budget calls for the fund balance to be reduced by $170,773.

Central Maintenance Fund

Revenue

Most of the revenue for this fund is locked-in by automatic transfers from the other funds, so about 94% of the selected revenue sources are assured.

Expenses

No concerns.

Conclusion

This fund improved its fund balance last year and it may have a revenue/expense surplus again this year.

Internal Building Maintenance Fund

Revenue

The major revenue source for this fund is by departmental assessment.

Expenses

Other Purchased Services is a bit over, but no concerns.

Conclusion

This fund improved its fund balance last year and it may have a revenue/expense surplus again this year.
